Why are you receiving this escrow analysis statement?
At least once each year, federal guidelines require that we review your escrow account to ensure sufficient funds are collected to pay your property taxes and insurance premiums. These reviews are necessary since these escrowed expenses can change. Please take a moment to review What's Changed. Learn more online at pnc.com/MortgageCustomerCare.

What's Changed?

- Due to your escrowed expenses (like property taxes and/or insurance premiums) increasing, your monthly / periodic escrow payment will increase to $1,798.32.
- Additionally, your escrow account is projected to have a surplus of $9,824.06.

Because of this surplus, a $9,824.06 refund check is being provided to you.

What You Need To Do

- If PNC automatically deducts your monthly payment from your checking or savings account, then your payment amount will be updated automatically. There's nothing you need to do.
- If you use another financial institution's payment service to pay your mortgage, then please update that service to reflect your new mortgage payment as of the new payment effective date.

Changes to your escrowed expenses (such as property taxes and insurance premiums) will result in changes to your monthly / periodic escrow payment. Your local taxing authority will typically review your property value and as a result may adjust your property taxes. Similarly, your insurance provider will review the risk and coverage amounts of your property and as a result may adjust your insurance premium.

PNC does not have information as to specifically why your taxes or insurance premiums may have changed. We encourage you to contact your local tax office or your insurance company for details or further information.

We add up the projected expenses to be paid over the next 12 months and divide that total by your required number of mortgage payments per year (normally 12) to determine your new escrow amount. These projected expenses are based on the most recent information we've received from your property tax authorities, insurance carrier(s), and for any other escrowed expenses.

Option 2: If you wish to discuss other options, please call us at 1-800-822-5626.

PNC should also receive a bill. The one you receive should be informational for your records and no further action will be needed as your lender will make the payments from your escrow account. If you have an escrow account for taxes and the tax bill is for delinquent taxes due, please call us at 1-800-822-5626.

Next 12 Month Activity Projection

This is a projection of your escrow account’s anticipated activity for the coming 12 months.

- Your new monthly / periodic escrow payment is the total of payments expected to be made out of your escrow account divided by the number of mortgage payments per year (normally 12).
- Since the projected minimum balance (indicated by ) is more than twice your new monthly escrow payment (excluding MIP/PMI), as allowed by RESPA unless your mortgage document or state law specifies a lower amount, the difference results in a surplus. For example: Surplus = [minimum balance] –2 × [monthly escrow payment excluding MIP/PMI]

Important Messages / Disclosures

Your escrow account shows a surplus, and a refund check may be provided to you. Note that a supplemental tax bill may be issued by your taxing authority for additional taxes due. Because supplemental tax bills are sent only to the homeowner, it is your responsibility to pay any additional taxes due directly to your taxing authority. You are encouraged to contact your taxing authority to see if you have been or will be assessed any additional taxes.
